Q. What are the opportunities for innovation?

Clearly, innovation in health care is needed to meet the challenges ahead. There is an opportunity for various practitioners to develop the full range of interrelated public, patient, and professional. For example, health care providers can work together to address the needs of the community. The National Center for Health Services, the Department of Health and Human Services, and the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research are working to develop an integrated approach to the health care system.
